Steve Costello, president of the Bradley Center Sports & Entertainment Corp., today released the following statement regarding the State of Wisconsin Building Commission's 7-1 vote approving Governor Jim Doyle's request for state support for the Bradley Center:

"The Building Commission's positive vote recognizes the important role the Bradley Center plays. State support is necessary to help maintain this valuable state asset and ensure it continues to be a viable economic engine that keeps Wisconsin as a top destination for sports and the nation's best touring shows. We are pleased with the Commission's decision and look forward to continuing the process on behalf of the people's building."
